STUDENT SUPPORT PLAN (IEP)

Name	DOB	Grade	Teacher of record
Tyrell J. Banks	02/18/2016	4	Ms. Holt

A. WHAT TYRELL DOES WELL

- Tyrell is a talented artist and loves to draw superheroes.
- He is polite and helpful to adults.

B. SUPPORTS FOR TYRELL

- Preview new vocabulary with pictures before each science unit.
- Give Tyrell a two-minute warning before moving to a new activity.
- Provide a printed copy of slides for note-taking.
- Tyrell may use a wobble stool at his desk.

C. SHORTER OR DIFFERENT WORK

- Spelling tests include 8 words instead of 15.
- Math homework is limited to 10 problems.

D. WHEN THINGS GET HARD

What it looks like: Tyrell crumples his paper and hides under the table when writing is assigned, about twice a day.

Why we think it happens: To get out of writing tasks that feel too hard.

What helps beforehand: Start writing with a drawing or by talking through ideas with an adult.

What we teach instead: Tyrell will point to his "help" card to ask for support.

What adults do: Stay calm, give him space, and offer the help card. Praise him when he returns to work.

E. TEAM SUPPORT

The school psychologist will meet with Tyrell's teachers once a month to review the plan.

F. SERVICE TIME

Tyrell receives special education writing support 150 minutes per week in the resource room. He also receives occupational therapy for 30 minutes weekly.

G. HEALTH

No health concerns at this time.

H. PROGRESS GOALS

Writing - Tyrell will write a 4-sentence paragraph about a picture with a capital letter and period in each sentence, 3 of 4 samples.

Coping - When frustrated, Tyrell will use his help card instead of hiding in 4 of 5 opportunities.
