STUDENT STRENGTHS

Ava is kind and eager to help classmates. She loves music and learns songs quickly, which helps her remember information. She follows classroom routines well and tries hard on new tasks.

PRESENT LEVELS OF PERFORMANCE

Ava is reading at a beginning first grade level. She knows most letter sounds but has difficulty blending sounds into words. Her handwriting is large and difficult to read, and she tires quickly when writing. Ava's math skills are at grade level.

ACCOMMODATIONS

- Read directions aloud to Ava and have her repeat them back before starting.
- Provide a slant board and pencil grip for written work.
- Allow Ava to answer questions orally instead of in writing when the goal is not writing.
- Give shortened spelling lists (10 words instead of 20).
- Use a visual schedule and give a warning before changes in routine.
- Allow movement breaks after 15 minutes of seated work.

SPECIAL EDUCATION SERVICES

Ava will receive specialized reading instruction for 30 minutes daily in the resource room with the special education teacher. Occupational therapy will be provided twice a month for 30 minutes in the OT room. The special education teacher will consult with the classroom teacher for 15 minutes weekly.

ANNUAL GOALS

1. Reading: By September 2027, Ava will blend sounds to read consonant-vowel-consonant words with 90% accuracy on 3 consecutive probes.

2. Reading: By September 2027, Ava will read 40 words correct per minute on first grade passages.

3. Fine Motor: By September 2027, Ava will write a sentence of 5 or more words with letters of correct size and spacing in 4 of 5 trials.

BEHAVIOR

Ava's behavior does not impede her learning or the learning of others. No behavior plan is needed.

HEALTH CONSIDERATIONS

Ava has a seizure disorder. Follow the seizure action plan on file with the school nurse. If Ava has a seizure, time it, keep her safe, and call the office right away. She takes medication at home; no medication is given at school.

FICTIONAL SAMPLE FOR TESTING

STATE AND DISTRICT TESTING

Ava will take district reading assessments with directions read aloud and a small group setting.

PARENT CONCERNS

Ava's parents want her to feel confident reading and to make friends in her class.
